PARKS AGAIN FOUND GUILTY

NOTORIOUS WALKING DEL-EGATE CONVICTED.

Extorted Money From Contractors for Protection—Also Proven Disloyal to Union—May be Expelled.

New York, Oct. 30.—For the second time within two months Sam J. Parks, walking delegate of the housewives' and bridgemen's union, was convicted of extortion this afternoon. It took the jury twelve minutes, during which time they took two ballots, to agree on the guilt of Parks in extorting $500 from the Tiffany Studios, a firm of contractors, under threat of keeping them from continuing work on buildings last January.

It was shown at the trial that Parks had obtained $500 from the Tiffany firm as an "initiation fee" last January when the housewives' and bridgemen were on a strike on three of the Tiffany contracts in this city. Parks claimed this money was a fine levied by his union. Later the fact developed Parks had been disloyal to the union, inasmuch as he permitted the Tiffany firm to employ nonunion men after having received the $500. This accusation was not denied by the defendant during the trial, but his attorneys contended Parks had given the money to the treasurer of his organization and the entire transaction was a business deal which instead of being a crime afforded considerable business advantage to the firm which paid the money.

In his charge Judge Newberger said it made no difference what disposition Parks made of the money after he had obtained it from representatives of the Tiffany firm, if in the belief of the jury he had obtained it under threat, direct or implied, as that fact would constitute extortion, the crime charged against the prisoner.

When the jury was polled and the verdict rendered Parks glared at the jurymen with the same look of defiance which he maintained during this as well as his previous trial.

He was remanded for sentence. Parks is now awaiting decision of the higher courts on a writ of error, having been sentenced after his first trial to a term of not less than two and a half nor more than three and a half years in Sing Sing prison. The charge on which his former conviction was secured also was extortion.

MAY BE EXPELLED.

As the result of the plea of Frank Hutchinson, president of the National Association of Iron Workers, local No. 2, Parks' union, practically decided to agree to the employers' arbitration plan. It is also probable charges will be preferred and Parks expelled from the union.

FOUND TWO BODIES

Des Moines Oct. 30.—While dynamiting the river for the body of Miss Lily Cole, who committed suicide by jumping from the Walnut street bridge last Tuesday, the police not only brought up the body of the girl, but that of an unknown man. There was nothing on the body by which it could be identified and the remains were so badly decomposed recognition was impossible. The skull was crushed and police believe the body may be that of a wealthy stockman named Jones who disappeared some time ago and who was thought to have been murdered for his money.

HARRISON CANDIDATE

Chicago's Mayor to Enter the Race for Presidential Nomination.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Mayor Harrison has decided to become a candidate for the nomination for the presidency on the Democratic ticket next year. In making this decision, it is said, he is influenced more by the possibility of being the nominee in 1936 than he is in 1934.

Democrat leaders are not hopeful of electing their candidate next year, but the mayor believes the Democratic nominee will be able to make such a good showing against President Roosevelt that he will be the logical candidate for renomination in 1936, the year the Democrats expect a political landslide which will sweep them into power again. The mayor will go to the national convention at the head of the Illinois delegation. Incidentally, he hopes to be made national committeeman if he fails to secure the nomination for the presidency. His friends argue that he is the only Democrat in the west who can unite the party, as they believe that if Former President Cleveland is able to dictate the nomination, if he does not take it himself, there will be a third ticket in the field, because R. Bryan and his followers are not expected to accept Mr. Cleveland.

William Preston Harrison, brother of the mayor, will move over to the west side and become a candidate for congress in the eighth district, to succeed W. F. Mahoney.

WARNED CARRIERS.

Strikes will Not Accomplish Anything for Them.

Joliet, Oct. 30.—"Under no circumstances are you to think that you can gain what you want by going on a strike. It doesn't do to strike when in national employ and you must not allow the people to think the association is formed to get higher wages or to order a strike." This advice was given to rural free delivery carriers by Chief Mailing Clerk Q. H. Chapin at a meeting of their Will County association, held in Lockport. Mr. Chapin thought the desired increase in salary was just and would be granted in time. The rural carriers came into personal touch with the people in a far greater degree than employees in any other division of the postal service. The association elected four delegates to the state association meeting to be held in Ottawa Nov. 14. They are W. Foster, Lockport; Davis, Mainfield; F. L. Rathke, Manhattan; Spafford, Joliet.

MANGLED IN FOOT BALL GAME.

New York, Oct. 30.—Thomas McCauley, 16 years of age, lies at the point of death in a Brooklyn hospital from injuries received in a foot ball game. His neck is broken and his lower limbs paralyzed, but the lad retains full possession of his faculties. McCauley, who is the son of a police sergeant, was playing on a training school eleven. He got the ball and started to run, when he was downed, with the entire team on top of him. He clung manfully to the ball and was carried off the field.

The memorial services were participated in by many prominent officers of the army. At the conclusion of the ceremonies the casket containing the body was removed to the Pennsylvania depot and will be taken to New York to morrow. Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 30.—To day's session of the board of managers of the Women's Home Missionary society was largely taken up by reports and financial matters. In addition to this, special appropriations for specific lines of work will be made later. Reports on the condition of several industrial schools operated under the auspices of the national organization were read and a plea for larger appropriations for the schools entered.

WRECKERS DERAILED TRAIN

SANTA FE FLYER PLUNGED INTO BED OF CREEK.

Passengers and Crew Miraculously Escape Death—Inward Bound Bankers Homebound—Motive Unknown.

Pueblo, Colo., Oct. 30.—By an act of train wreckers the east bound Santa Fe passenger train known as the Colorado Chicago "flyer," in which was one car filled with eastern bankers homeward bound from California, was derailed at 1:30 this morning at Aplahapa creek, thirty-five miles east of this city, and breaking down a steel bridge, the engine and four cars following plunged to the bed of the creek. Thirty or more trainmen and passengers were injured and that none were killed outright is regarded as almost miraculous.

The train was running fifty miles an hour. At the west end of the bridge across Aplahapa creek, between Mangonia and Fowler, the rails spread, derailing the engine, and it plunged over the ties at least fifteen feet. The extraordinary strain put on the bridge caused the structure to collapse and the engine, baggage coach and chair cars went down to the bed of the creek. Fortunately little water was running in the creek at the time. One Pullman stopped with the forward end projecting over the embankment. The bankers' car was the only one not derailed. The cars were not badly broken up and all the injured were taken out before relief trains arrived. None were fatally injured and very few seriously hurt.

Investigation showed plainly that spikes had been pulled from three rails. The motive of the wreckers is a mystery, as no robbery was attempted. The bridge was inspected last week and found to be in good condition, and the track of eighty-five pound steel was relaid about a year ago.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 30.—It is announced at the Santa Fe general offices here that special efforts will be made to apprehend the persons who caused the wreck of the Santa Fe special near Pueblo this morning. The best detective service men from headquarters have been detailed on the case. Officials have been notified that already some clew has been found and it is expected some arrests will be made before many hours.

ANOTHER CRANK

Washington, Oct. 30.—Edward Tanner, 33 years old, a native of Switzerland and a crank, tried to see the president to day, but did not get far beyond the doors of the executive offices before his condition was discovered. He was taken to police headquarters and later to St. Elizabeth insane asylum. His delusion was that he was being continually pursued by airplanes. He thought the president would make them stop bothering him. Tanner said he had a wife in Memphis, Tenn., but that he came direct from northern Montana, to see the president.

European Powers More Inclined Toward That Method of Settlement of Disputes.

Rome, Oct. 30.—Judge William L. Penfield, solicitor of the state department at Washington, who has been in Rome some time, has finished the courier case of Venezuela against the allied powers and will present it to The Hague tribunal next Wednesday. In conversation with the Associated Press to day Penfield said:

"My experience enables me truly to say European sentiment in favor of arbitration has been much augmented during the year. The United States is being given her full credit for this condition, which has been largely produced by active exertions of President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay in bringing the case fund to the Hague tribunal and also in leading the powers to submit to that court the present controversy with Venezuela."

MASSACHUSETTS REPUBLICANS.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 30.—The Republican held a mass meeting to night, the principal speakers being Secretary Shaw and Senator Hoar. Secretary Shaw said the Democrats have always been looking for an issue, and asked: "Did you see anything in their platform of 1892 that they did not use in 1896 or 1900. In 1900 the Populists organized as sincerely as as ever anybody. Democrats cast about for a platform and used the issue of the Populists."

Shaw said there was great eagerness to wipe out the trusts in all states, but when it came home, the people of each community wanted the trusts in their locality saved.

THE BEST TELEGRAPH OPERATOR.

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—William M. Gibson, of the Associated Press, and now with a new assignment, won the Carnegie Medal and world's championship as "the best" telegraph operator at the tournament of the American Telegraph Association held here to night. E. B. Buckner, of the Postal Telegraph company, Chicago, won the second prize. Gibson's victory was a brilliant one, as he had had for opponents some of the best telegraphers in the country, including F. M. Clinton, of the Associated Press, Dallas, Tex., who won the championship last year.

AUTHORSHIP DENIED.

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—Before United States Commissioner Heacock to day James R. Erwin, indicted postal inspector, was put on the stand. He denied authorship of a letter to Machen and further said he had been warned his mail was being tampered with. He offered to produce five or six letters addressed to him which had recently been opened. This surprising testimony was admitted despite the strict attorney's objections. This finished the evidence. Commissioner Heacock to the case under advisement.

Madrid, Oct. 30.—Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, British ambassador to Spain, recently appointed British ambassador to the United States, was interviewed to day by the Associated Press at the British embassy here and expressed his great pleasure in being assigned to Washington. When asked what line of policy he would follow the ambassador answered that it would be difficult to answer, owing to his acquaintance with the country, but that naturally he will follow the lines laid down by the foreign office and British interests.

"The relations between the United States and Great Britain," he continued, "are most cordial, there being no serious litigation pending between the two Anglo-Saxon nations, and I am personally convinced Great Britain will use every endeavor to avoid causes for friction, as made evident by submission of the Alaska question to arbitration. The political horizon being, therefore, cloudless, I imagine my part at Washington will be social rather than diplomatic."

REPORTS ARE ENCOURAGING

RETAIL TRADE STIMULATED BY THE COOL WEATHER.

Movement of Crops Freer and Collections Have Improved—The Open Fall Favors Building Operations.

New York, Oct. 30.—Bradstreet's weekly trade review says: Cool weather has stimulated retail trade quite generally throughout the country and this is reflected in improved reorder demand for seasonable goods. Movement of crops has been freer and interior collections have improved. Eastern jobbers in turn note a more cheerful tone to trade. There is rather better tone to the lumber market and more steadiness than earlier in the month. The open fall favors active building at many centers and this helps in the absence of great activity noted at larger cities a year ago. Other building material is steady for the same reason. Shutdown of Amalgamated Copper mines has had a strengthening effect on that product. The window glass industry is depressed and production must be curtailed. Too much combination, both of employes and of factories, is complained of.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week were 4,088,000 bushels, against 5,968,000 this week last year; for seven consecutive weeks of the cereal year, 53,902,000 bushels, against 59,824,000 in 1932.

Corn exports for the week were 1,392,000 bushels, against 153,000 a year ago; for seventeen weeks of the present cereal year, 1,443,000 bushels, against 1,732,000 in 1932.

DUN'S REPORT.

Industrial activity has increased somewhat, many plants resuming and others preparing to reopen on Monday. While there is evidence of a setback in the steel industry and some hesitation in textiles at the east, the general tenor of these reports is encouraging for continuance of prosperity, particularly in sections where agriculture is the chief occupation. Collections are causing some uneasiness and financial conditions are unsettled. Merchandise is freely distributed. Railway earnings for October thus far surpass last year's by 5.9 per cent and those of 1931 by 13.4 per cent. Purchase of iron and steel products are still restricted to immediate requirements as a rule, although decline in quotations appears checked. Some increased interest is noted in structural material for office buildings, warehouses and bridges, but orders are insignificant when compared with last year's business in this line. In the sheet market there are reports of price concessions by independent mills and small sizes of pipe are weak, but large pipes and tubes are in brisk request, order books assuring activity well into next year. For the first time this season it is possible to record distinctly a better tone in the market for cotton goods. Print cloths are firmer, occasional small advances being quoted and the market for staple and fancy prints is strengthened by paucity of supplies. Slight increase in sales of woollens was not sufficient to recover last ground nor is supplementary business up to the volume that should be coming forward at this time. New England footwear factories have business needed for full occupation of machinery during 1933.

Failures this week were 263 in the United States, against 233 last year.

Fort Riley, Kan., Oct. 30.—The series of army maneuvers closed to day, nearly the entire force of regulars being engaged. "SAW RUN ON THE BANKS."

Dr. Carl E. Black and wife returned Friday, after a week's absence from the city, during which time they visited Dr. G. V. Black and family in Chicago and by special invitation Dr. Black attended the meeting of reciprocating boards of medical examiners of the United States held in St. Louis. During the day the world's fair site was visited and Dr. and Mrs. Black also had the novel experience of witnessing the run on the St. Louis Trust companies banks and they report that the accounts given in the newspapers were in no way exaggerated. A visit was also made to Dr. and Mrs. Percy E. Hoffman, who are now pleasantly located in Petosey, Mo., the oldest town in the state. It is situated in the lead mining district and land that until a little while ago was practically worthless is now selling as high as $1,000 an acre. The many friends of Dr. Hoffman in this city will be pleased to know that he has built up a substantial practice in his new home and is meeting with deserved success.

"AT CRIPPLE CREEK."

"Hal Reid's new drama, "At Cripple Creek," is booked for an engagement at the Grand next Monday night. The powerful production is full of the fire and spirit of early frontier life. Scenes of sparkling beauty and weird grandeur in the heart of the Rockies are depicted with startling realism. A charming love story threads its way through scenes of deadly peril. Drillery and quaint humor evoke laughter and there is no dull moment from first act to last. The company appearing in "At Cripple Creek" is one of excellent strength.

DO YOU BELIEVE IN SIGNS?

A mark, note, token or symptom indicates that by which anything may be known, that is, we are forewarned if evil is to befall us, or we have the pleasure of anticipation of the signs betoken a fortunate occurrence. Accidental occurrences all have their signs, every disease has its symptoms. The point is to heed the forerunners and counteract the effect of the danger. Spells of sick-headache follow indigestion and stomach disorders, belching, biliousness, and dyspepsia are signs of sickness. People that believe in these signs and know that they are true from experience, cannot but find immediate relief and a speedy cure by the use of Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills. Republican County Ticket.
For Commissioner.
LUTHER A. BARR, of Arcadia.

Voting Republicans will vote for Barr next Tuesday.

If you are a Republican, it don't count unless you vote.

Bright and early Tuesday morning is the time to vote for Barr.

Mr. Barr is going to get a tremendous big vote. You cannot afford to miss voting for him Tuesday.

A good many people will vote for Barr, Tuesday, Nov. 3. He deserves it. He is an old soldier and an honest man.

With the election of Barr there will be two old soldiers on the county board. Vote for him next Tuesday.

Do your duty at the polls next Tuesday and cast your vote for Luther A. Barr for county commissioner. It means much for the welfare of the county when such a man is chosen for commissioner.

Tuesday is near at hand. Let no Republican fail to do his duty up to that time and by all means be on hand then and help get out the vote for Luther A. Barr for commissioner. The welfare of the taxpayers will be conserved by this course.

Many important measures are before the people and will await a decision during the coming year and it is important that such a man as Luther A. Barr be chosen commissioner. He will be the right man in the right place and should have a large majority next Tuesday.

Every day shows the importance of having the best men for the office of county commissioner, for it is a place which is not filled by any ordinary person with success. The good of the county will be best served by the election of Luther A. Barr as commissioner, so let all be on hand and help along the good cause Tuesday next.

You cannot afford to remain away from the polls next Tuesday, for there will be an important election and Luther A. Barr will be the man for whom you should cast your ballot if you are wise. Be there and help along the good cause.

Mr. Berryman says, in his letter to the people, draw a line through the park in Jacksonville north and south, and if he is defeated the east half of the county will have no representation. Well, on the same principle, if he is elected, a line can be drawn from his house to Mr. Hillig's house and Woodson, Pisgah, all of Jacksonville precinct, Markham, Concord, Arcadia, Litterberry, Sinclair, Prentice and Alexander, to say nothing of Franklin and Waverly, will be without representation.

HATCH SELLING 60 DOSES OF DR. HOWARD'S DYSPESIA FOR 25c.

Don't let this chance pass. To day is worth two to morrows. When this notice was sent to the Journal Hatch, the leading druggist of Jacksonville, had just received a fresh stock of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, the regular size of 60 doses, which to get new users for the remedy, was to be sold at 25c. This stock will not last long, and you should not delay taking advantage of this offer. Nearly nine-tenths of our people suffer with indigestion, constipation, headaches or liver troubles, diseases that Dr. Howard's specific never fails to radically cure. Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia is not a "cure-all." It is simply a specific for the cure of indigestion, headaches, constipation and liver troubles. It comes in the form of tiny granules, 60 in a vial, is pleasant any easy to take, and it is sold by them with the understanding that if it does not give perfect satisfaction, it will cost you absolutely nothing.

If you feel dull and out-of-sorts, the chances are that you are constipated of your stomach is out of order. Here is a chance to get well for a trifling sum, without having to pay a cent if the medicine does not cure you.

HIS ORDERS.

"Gracious, Will! What is that light ahead?"

"It can't be No. 10!" Tom took from his pocket in less time than it takes you to read a grimy yellow paper.

"See, Will," he said, "I have followed out the directions exactly."

Will took the order and read. As he handed the paper back Tom lost his grasp, and the paper flew out of the cab window.

Tom whistled frantically for brakes and turned off the steam, but too late. They jumped just before the crash came. There lay a fearful wreck—iron, wood, freight, humanity.

Those who saw it will never forget. Tom was terribly burned. He hunted about looking for Will, but found him dead. The other engineer, too, was fatally injured.

The matter was sifted, and Tom was placed under arrest for manslaughter.

He was a young engineer, as brave and popular as any on the line; a tall, handsome fellow, a friend to all, a noble fellow clear through.

His closest friend visited him the night before his trial.

"Tom," he said, "everything is against you."

"I followed out the directions explicitly, Horace," he said. "There must be some explanation."

"There is some terrible mistake some place. Johnson says he gave you the exact orders, and Bates says he telegraphed them to Johnson. Could we only find the paper?"

"But it flew from the window, and Will, the only one who saw it, is dead, and I am doomed."

"Cheer up, old man," Horace said as he patted Tom on the back. "I have a message from Bessie for you. 'Tell him,' she says, 'that whichever way it goes I shall believe in him and wait for him forever if needs be.'"

Tom and Bessie—a sweet, brown-eyed girl—were to be married in the fall. It was all bitter indeed. When he thought of Bessie the bitterness deepened into despair. Sad and disheartened, Horace left his friend. The trial came. Tom was convicted and received a sentence of ten years.

It was in a farmhouse in Illinois that Bessie Keith was spending the autumn. It was on the 10th day of October, the day set for her wedding. Her sweet face had grown thin, and in the brown eyes a wistful look had crept. About the mouth a pathetic curve was apt to creep and linger. No one ever heard an audible moan. Horace ran down for a brief spell to see his only sister. As he took her in his arms she drew her breath hard. That was all, but Horace understood. She wandered that afternoon down to the woods, where the railroad track was laid. A piece of coal obstructed her path. Impatiently she kicked it from her. A soiled piece of paper caught her eye. Listlessly stooping, she picked it up and read the blurred lines. There was a startled exclamation. Then she turned and fairly flew up the road to the farmhouse.

"Horace! Oh, Horace!" she cried frantically.

Horace turned to meet her. "Why, Bess, what is the matter?"

"Read! Read!" she exclaimed, her breath coming in gasps.

He took the paper and read, "No. 54 proceed to Galena, switch there and await No. 10." The collision and its terrible results for which his friend was suffering happened twenty miles this side of Galena. He held the proof in his hand. Horace caught the next train to Chicago. It did not take long to arrange the preliminaries and set to work to find the one who made the fatal mistake. They gave Horace the release and sent him to Joliet to get Tom. Weary and heart sore that hot October day, Tom had leaned his head for a moment against the machinery. The door opened, but he still sat there.

So dejected, so weary and heartsick did he look that Horace turned his head to hide the moisture that gathered in his eyes.

He put his hand on the bowed head and softly said, "Tom!"

The first thing Tom saw was the letter.

He sprang up.

"Horace! A release!" he cried.

Putting his arms about his friend's shoulders, he laid his head on the ample bosom. It seemed that all the pent up feelings of those misery freighted months burst forth in a perfect torrent of tears—tears such as strong men seldom shed.

"Free, free, free! And proved innocent! Great God, I thank thee!"

While Tom lay in prison a resolution had been formed. He said nothing of it until he held the loved form of Bessie in his arms and read approval and pride in the sweet brown eyes.

Together Bessie and Tom had entered the law school. Together they practiced, Bessie, with her gentle intuition, often helping Tom about the sharp corners of reason. Among the first law firms of our state stands the name of Courtney & Courtney, to whom the worthy never appeal in vain, to whom all are innocent until proved guilty.

Just a Lesson.

Aunt Jane—They tell me you took $50 of Mr. Young's money at the card table last night. I did not know that you ever gambled.

Nephew—That wasn't gambling, auntie. Young was quite elated at the hand he held, and I bet with him merely to give him a lesson not to trust too much to appearances.

Aunt Jane—Oh, that was it, was it? I thought you wouldn't be so wicked as to gamble.

THE TEACHERS

former students rose and sang a college song by way of greeting.

We pay more attention to making history than studying it. I wish more could be known of the history of our own state, but we know much more about other facts of record than of our own. We have been accustomed to look to Massachusetts as the parent of the common school system, and justly so to a great extent, but Nathaniel Pope in congress that framed and urged the law that gave to the states the public lands for school purposes and he patterned after Jefferson, who devoted much of his declining years to promoting the cause of common schools. Had the school lands been kept as originally intended there would be little school tax to pay. Edward Cole, second governor of Illinois, was another friend of schools. He freed his slaves and did much for the rising generation. In 1825 Joseph Duncan offered a bill in the state legislature providing for free public schools and it passed, but the people, largely from the south, were not willing and so to appease the feeling the law was amended so that no man should be taxed for schools without his consent, and it was not until 1855 that the schools were put on the proper basis, though there were schools partly supported at public expense. In early days the old log school house, built by volunteer work of the people, and we are inclined to make fun of it, but it kept pace with the home buildings, just as this beautiful high school building is a type of your dwelling houses. Many of the early teachers were Irish and they did well for those times. They sometimes forgot to pay their bills and they loved the flowing bowl, but they were true pioneers. Muscular strength, too, counted for much. The teacher was often locked out till he would treat, which he generally did. The course of study was naturally circumscribed. Great stress was laid on spelling and next to it came arithmetic as far as fractions, while grammar and geography were seldom known prior to 1840. New England schools were carried on primarily that the people might know how to read the Bible. The New England primer and the Bible were the leading text books. Later came Murray's English reader, but in revolutionary times there arose a counter sentiment and different books were used. Dilworth's speller was one of the first, followed by Webster's Pike's arithmetic prevailed and he who mastered it was respected even more than minister or governor. The quality of the teachers was not very high. One man brought 500 lady teachers from Vermont and they proved successful; some went to make homes for waiting men and others remained steadfast. To day men are becoming scarcer and like the buffalo, the ark and negatrum we may some day become extinct.

In 1833 at Vandalia was held the first educational convention and there much was done for the cause. Rev. John R. Peck is one who should be gratefully remembered. He was active in founding Alton seminary, which developed into Shurtleff college. In 1829 to Jacksonville came the devoted Yale band, who unselfishly gave themselves to the cause of learning and became a power which will be felt while the state exists. John S. Wright, promoter of the "Prairie Farmer," did much for education and his periodical was one of the best mediums of knowledge then before the public. In 1856 the state was provided with a very good school law. In 1856 and for four consecutive terms Newton Bateman was elected state superintendent of instruction, a man to whom the state owes so much. Another name to be preserved in a blazon of glory is J. B. Turner, the father of the state university. A monument should be erected to his memory.

Miss Edna Hatch, one of our gifted musicians, sang most sweetly a song which greatly delighted all who heard it. S. W. Nichols then spoke on western tours.

The committee on resolutions then offered its report which was adopted: We, the members of the Union Teachers' association, composed of the teachers of Morgan, Scott, Greene and Pike counties, in our thirteenth annual session assembled, realizing that we have been especially favored by every element essential to the success of this meeting and wishing to express our appreciation for the same, do hereby extend our thanks to the honorable mayor for his cordial welcome and to the citizens of Jacksonville for their hospitable entertainment; to the board of education for the use of the high school building; to the teachers and pupils of Jacksonville for their many courtesies extended to us, and to the teachers, pupils and county superintendent of Morgan county for the energy and taste exercised in collecting and arranging the best exhibit of school work with which this association has yet been favored; to the management of the state institutions for their kind consideration in preparing a special program for our benefit; to the musicians and elocutionists that have contributed so largely to the pleasure of this meeting; to the program committee for the excellent program arranged; to the president and the other officers for their faithful performance of duty; to Dr. John Merritt Driver for his excellent lecture, and to Superintendent Collins and President Felmley for their valuable assistance.

We, your committee, desire to emphasize the importance of the high school section and recommend a continuance of the same. Believing that the exhibit of school work at this meeting has been a source of inspiration and profit, your committee recommends that the precedent be followed in future meetings of this association. In view of the fact that the members of this association desire to attend the exhibition at St. Louis next year and believe that it will be a most profitable and interesting one, your committee recommends that the precedent be followed in future meetings of this association.

Secretary—Miss Evelyn Hammond, Morgan county.
Treasurer—John C. Moore, Scott county.
Railroad secretary—W. H. D. Meier, Pike county.

The report of the treasurer showed a good balance on hand and all bills paid. Pittsfield was chosen as the place of meeting two years hence.

On behalf of the teachers of Morgan county Miss Martha Morrison presented Miss Grote, the accomplished vice president, a handsome bouquet, which was accepted with thanks.

The association then adjourned and the teachers repaired to the State School for the Blind, where they were entertained most acceptably by Professor Freeman and his pupils.

PRIZES FOR PUPILS

County Schools have Close Competition in Special Work.

Previous to the meeting of the Four County Teachers' institute County Superintendent Johnson issued a circular to all the schools of this county offering a prize of $2 for the three best writing books from as many pupils in one school; $2 for the weather record for at least two weeks and $2 for the best set of three maps, each set to contain one map of the United States, Illinois and Morgan county from three pupils of one school.

The above premiums were given on the condition that the teacher in the school receiving one or all of them would expend the same for a picture or pictures to be hung in the school room.

The judges who passed upon the work were William Calhoun, of Pike county, R. V. Smith, of Greene county, and Elmer F. Walker, of Scott county, and they awarded the prize for the best writing to the Franklin school, for the best weather record to Little Hope and for the best set of maps Chapin.

The competition was close and it was no easy task that confronted the judges when they were called upon to make their decision. The exhibit as a whole was exceedingly creditable.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.
J. B. Williamson will lead the men's meeting. Good music; good talk. All men welcome.

Miss Thompson, the assistant librarian, will speak at the B. G. M. Pearl and Byron Waters will sing.

Last night at the Y. M. C. A. rooms the best social of the season was given by the members of the association to their friends who came out in large numbers. It was in the nature of a Halloween social and Halloween pranks predominated. There was ducking for apples, fortune telling, apple eating contest and guessing contest. Miss Ethel Wyder delivered a number of thrilling ghost stories in a most pleasing manner. The evening's entertainment closed by a regular old fashioned taffy pull, which was greatly enjoyed by all. The rooms were decorated with asparagus, autumn leaves, corn and Jack-o' lanterns made of pumpkins. Never were the rooms so tastefully decorated and they presented a very pleasing appearance.

Vote for Luther A. Barr for county commissioner next Tuesday, Nov. 3d.

THE DEATH RECORD.

GRIMSLEY.

Word was received Friday announcing the death of Robert Grimsley, Jr., who died at Eureka Springs, Ark., Friday morning. Deceased had been in poor health and about three months ago went to Eureka Springs in the hope the climate there would prove beneficial. While there he contracted the mountain fever, which was the cause of his death.

Decedent was 19 years of age and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimsley, of 511 South Prairie street, this city. He graduated from the high school, where he made a splendid record and was always popular with his classmates. He has been called from earth when life was just opening before him full of promise and his death has brought sadness to a wide circle of friends.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed, but the remains will be brought here for interment.

TYLER.

Mrs. Mary Tyler, of San Jose, died at Passavant hospital Friday morning, after a protracted illness of several months. Deceased was the wife of Dr. Tyler, of San Jose, and was 40 years of age. She is survived by her husband and two children. The remains were taken to San Jose on the C. & A. afternoon train, where the interment will take place.

FUNERALS.

DEVORE.

The funeral of Miss Della May Devore was conducted Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from Asbury church in the presence of a large number of friends. The services were conducted by Rev. N. English, who was assisted by Rev. A. L. Plovman. Appropriate songs were sung by the church choir. The following obituary was read by Rev. A. L. Plovman: "Della May, daughter of William and Emma Devore, was born at the home where she lived and died, six and one-half miles southeast of Jacksonville, on Feb. 18, 1886, and died Oct. 29, 1903, aged 17 years, 8 months and 11 days. She was converted in February, 1901, at Asbury church, the first year of my ministry here. She was one of the eleven that was baptised and received into Asbury church the following summer. She is the second one of that class of dear young people to be called home. She was a most earnest and faithful Christian and if not in her place at Sunday school and church on Sunday morning the pastor knew that she was not absent from choice. She bore her great sufferings with Christian fortitude and grace. Before crossing over the heavenly home was made visible to her and she described its beauties to her friends. Death to her was a great release from suffering and sorrow, and an admission into the mansions her Savior has prepared for all who follow Him here. She will be missed in the home, where she was so much loved; in the church and Sunday school, where she loved so much to be, and among a large social circle, where she was a favorite. After the reading of the obituary Rev. Mr. Plovman spoke most earnestly of the life of the deceased and in closing his remarks said: "Our impressions and influences upon others, we leave behind us and these and the words we have spoken will continue to live and influence others after we are gone. Thus our works do follow us. Thus our loved ones, though gone from us, still speak to us every day through their words and looks and tender love, while they were with us. How the last words stay with us. "We that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened." How many are the cares and anxieties and burdens of life? These are all laid aside; the race is run; the prize is won, and but for our selfishness in wanting to keep our loved ones with us there could be nothing but joy and gladness when our friends die in the Lord."

At the close of the services the funeral cortege proceeded to the Asbury cemetery, where interment took place. The bearers were Wm. Richardson, Frank Richardson, Lester Reid, Albert Holmes, Joseph Megginson and Elsa Hembrough. There were many beautiful flowers that made brighter this solemn occasion and they were placed in the care of Misses Minnie Megginson, Laura Bridgman, Sadie Richardson and Minnie Hembrough.

BROWN.

The funeral of Mrs. Ellis Brown was conducted from the Mt. Emory Baptist church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services were in charge of Rev. W. A. Moore, who was assisted by Rev. H. H. DeWitt and Rev. Mr. Lewis. The music was furnished by the church choir. The bearers were James Mathews, David Douglas, Levi Postley, Willis McDonald, Charles Jackson and J. M. Lewis. Interment was in Jacksonville cemetery.

ILLINOIS WINS

Heavy State Normal Eleven Goes Down Before Locals in Friday's Contest—Score, 22 to 0.

At the West Side park Friday afternoon a large crowd witnessed the Illinois college foot ball team defeat the Illinois State Normal university by a score of 22 to 0. The Normal boys outweighed Illinois about ten pounds to a man, but lacked the speed and snappiness with which the local boys played. Illinois had a badly crippled team as a result of the game at St. Louis and played several substitutes. Vieira, a new man at center, showed up exceptionally well. There was hardly a local player but what had some injury, yet they seemed to be on their mettle and played an excellent game. A special feature was the lack of fumbling which has been so noticeable in the earlier games. Both teams were frequently penalized for offside plays. The majority of the gains by Normal were made through the line, while Illinois' gains were mainly around the end.

FIRST HALF.

Illinois won the toss and chose the west goal. Normal kicked off to Illinois' ten-yard line, where Owen caught the ball and advanced it fifteen yards. Illinois fumbled and Normal obtained it on the twenty-five-yard line. The visitors advanced it to Illinois' seventeen-yard mark and lost on downs. Owen, McDonald and Brockhouse made gains of five to eight yards. On the fourth play Right End W. Harmon was given the ball and circled the end for an excellent gain of thirty yards. On the next play Tontz made an exciting run of forty yards and a touchdown. Brown kicked goal. Score, 6 to 0. Illinois kicked to Normal's ten-yard line. Normal started their system of line plays and by this, with the exception of one end play of twenty-five yards, advanced the ball to Illinois' twenty-five-yard line. Here Illinois held and on the first play Tontz made another of his sensational thirty-yard runs. The local boys were penalized for holding and were forced to kick. Normal, after receiving the ball, was also penalized, and not making the required distance it was Illinois' ball in the center of the field. Brockhouse, Eilers, Owen, Tontz, McDonald and R. Harmon advanced the ball to within four yards of the goal and Owen was pushed over for the second touchdown. Brown kicked goal. Score, 12 to 0. Illinois kicked off and after a few plays time was called with the ball in the center of the field in Normal's possession.

SECOND HALF.

Illinois kicked to fifteen-yard line and Normal advanced it ten yards. By line plays they carried it to the thirty-five-yard mark, where Illinois held for downs. Eilers showed up splendid both in offensive and defensive work and Normal soon tired of trying his place. Tontz and McDonald made gains of twelve and seven yards around the end and R. Harmon, just to show them how it was done, hit the line for fifteen yards unsupported through the center, and Owen carried it five yards. The ball was given to McDonald, who advanced it seven yards for a touchdown. An attempt to punt out failed and the score was 17 to 0. Illinois kicked to ten-yard mark and Normal advanced the ball five yards. Eilers and McDonald made some good tackles and Illinois obtained the oval on the twenty-five-yard line. Brockhouse, Eilers, McDonald, Owen and Harmon made gains to within a few yards of the goal and Owen was sent over for another touchdown. Brown failed to kick goal. Score, 22 to 0. Illinois kicked to fifteen-yard line and Normal by a series of irresistible line plays carried the ball toward Illinois' goal. Here R. Harmon demonstrated that he perfectly understood the game of foot ball. All on the Illinois line played star games, but were unable to stop the Normal advance. Normal continued their march to Illinois' five-yard line and a touchdown seemed sure, when Illinois made a brave stand and held the visitors for downs amid a great amount of chering from the side lines.

Illinois then took a brace and advanced the ball to the center of the field, where time was called. Ed Brown, quarter back, and Captain Brockhouse deserve great praise for the manner in which they managed the team. The line-up:

Referee—First half, Vickery; second half, Bawden. Umpire—First half, Bawden; second half, Vickery. Linesman—J. N. Winterbottom. Timers—Osborne and Stewart. Halves—Twenty minutes. Touchdowns—Tontz, Owen (2), McDonald. Goals—Brown (2).

AT THE GRAND

Tim Murphy and Company Make an Audience Enthusiastic

The theatre-goers of Jacksonville were treated to a comedy of genuine merit last night when Mr. Tim Murphy and supporting company presented "The Man From Missouri." The audience was of fair size, and great is the pity, for the standing room only sign should have been out. The play is a comedy of social life in Washington, Mr. Murphy appearing as Jim Broncho, the man from Missouri. The part is well suited to Mr. Murphy's peculiar talents. His talents are peculiar not in the sense of oddity, but in distinct ability and subtlety of feeling. Broncho Jim goes from Missouri to Washington to visit a congressman friend of his. He finds things a little dull at first, but soon discovers that the social life there is plenty swift enough for him. The story is a mixture of society life and western ruggedness and is very spicily told. Mr. Murphy does not need to carry a weak company in order to shine himself and his support is excellent. Mr. Elliott Dexter as Senor DeCastro was very strong and Miss Sherwood as Helen Lentworth lent a charming personality, forcefulness and artistic grace to her part. The company as a whole was entirely satisfactory.

Tim Murphy is an actor of the Sol Smith Russell type and he is growing in popularity with each passing season. No more enthusiastic audience ever gathered at the Grand than occupied the seats last night and Mr. Murphy was called before the footlights at the end of each act and twice was compelled to respond to demands for a speech. He is always graceful and witty in such responses and his remarks added greatly to the interest in the occasion. Mr. Murphy will be ever welcome in Jacksonville.

ILL ODORED PLAYS.

A writer in the St. Louis Globe Democrat makes a strong plea for a clean stage as follows:

"The appeal for decenter plays on the stage grows louder—so do the plays in the sense that odoriferous is sometimes expressed by the word. The difference between the coarseness of Shakespeare and the coarseness of the modern playwright is that in Shakespeare's plays it is the natural, unexaggerated expression of the sentiments or opinion of the time portrayed; and they are all pruned for the stage. In our new plays coarseness is lodged in on purpose to startle the hearer by its daring; certainly not to please him, for persons that might be pleased by such sniffs at the unclean are disappointed because it isn't worse. There are people who may have a fancy for dabbling in vice, but even they desist being dabbled in it at the theatre. They prefer that vice should remain in the outer darkness set aside for it, if it must exist at all. Then these who are seeking it may guide themselves accordingly, and heaven have mercy on their souls. But let it not be waved gratuitously under our noses in the first class theaters, where we cannot help ourselves except by remaining away from the theaters altogether. There are some phases of life that are not fit for portrayal before mixed audiences, perhaps not at any audiences, just as there are a great many things not fit to be said in polite society. There are a great many true things that are neither interesting nor instructive. We know that the sewers are flowing beneath the city, but we do not care to go and visit them—certainly not as an amusement."

JUSTICE COURTS.

Horace Massey appeared in Squire Coons' court Friday, charged with drunkenness and was fined $3 and costs. Taylor Willett was arraigned on the same charge and this being his second offense this month was fined $6 and costs.

COLORED REPUBLICANS.

The Colored Republican club met in their hall Friday night with a fair attendance. The annual election was the object of the meeting. The following were elected:

President—A. J. Jones.
Vice President—Charles Berry.
Secretary—Charles Mitchell.
Treasurer—James Brown.

The club and all colored voters are requested to be present Monday night Nov. 1, at the hall. Several prominent speakers will address the meeting and a very interesting time will be enjoyed.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

Mistaken For a Scribe.
Robert B. Armstrong, assistant secretary of the treasury, spent a part of his vacation this year in Des Moines. While there he went one day to call on Colonel C. L. Godfrey, a veteran of the civil war, who is in the customs service. It was early in the morning, and the colonel was busy at his desk and not in the best of humor.
Remembering that he used to go to see the colonel for news in the days when he was a newspaper man out in the Hawkeye State, Mr. Armstrong asked him for a story. The colonel not only mistook the assistant secretary for a reporter, but he proceeded to impart a few ideas of a forceful nature concerning the newspaper genus generally and to tell how tired he was of being pestered for items.

"What paper are you on, anyway?" suddenly asked the colonel after he had relieved his mind on the subject of his lecture. "Seems to me I know you, young man. Your face is familiar."

Then Mr. Armstrong presented his card, and when the light penetrated the fog that hung over the colonel's mind he hurried his visitor into the private sanctum.

Weaknesses of "Labby."

"Though enormously rich, Labouchere enjoys few of the ordinary pleasures that are supposed to go with riches," says T. P. O'Connor in Everybody's Magazine. "He eats the simplest fare. He never touches wine except when he is bullied into taking a glass or two of mild claret by medical advice, and then he swallows it as though it were medicine. He has two weaknesses. One is his love of cigarette smoking; the other a mania for changing houses and redecoration and rebuilding. He is rarely without a cigarette in his mouth. Indeed this love of smoking amounts to something like a passion. Almost every half hour, even in the midst of a fierce debate or of a great speech, Labby may be seen rising from his seat in his lazy, indolent manner. He is going to one of the smoke rooms of the house to have his cigarette. It is characteristic of him that he smokes very inferior cigarettes. I asked him once what kind he smoked. 'As long as there is quantity,' said Labby, with his usual sardonic smile, 'I really don't much care about quality.'"

He Secured Special Apparatus.

Professor Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau, returned to Washington recently from the meeting of the international committee of directors of government weather services and the directors of private observatories held at Southport, England. "Secretary Wilson a year ago authorized me," said Professor Moore, "to purchase ground and build and install a complete meteorological and scientific observatory."

PROFESSOR WILLIS L. MOORE.

We have purchased sixty miles square of land west of Washington in the Blue Ridge mountains, 1,800 feet above sea level. Buildings are in course of erection. In this observatory we propose to study the higher problems of meteorology, the various forms of solar energy in their relation to terrestrial weather. One of my objects in going to Europe was to buy some special apparatus that would be useful to us in carrying on this research work."

Paul Kruger in Retirement.

Grim old Oom Paul Kruger, tragic wanderer from the Transvaal, is in lonely retirement at Menton. He wears a somewhat smart frock coat and black trousers and the familiar stove pipe hat bound with heavy black crape and walks with a cane. A policeman disperses the hordes of cameras in front of the villa when the former president enters the house daily about noon after a morning spent in the garden. The old man is by no means decrepit and looks in good health. He prefers the company of his own thoughts to intercourse with strangers.

FOR THE CHILDREN

Lincoln and the Drummer Boy.
In the spring of 1864 Colonel Fox stopped a few days in Washington with his regiment, the Twenty-seventh Michigan, on his way to join the Army of the Potomac. While there he called on President Lincoln, who received him kindly and invited him and the officers of his regiment to attend a reception at the White House that evening, an invitation which was joyfully accepted.

When they arrived at the historical mansion the colonel introduced his officers to the president, who greeted them warmly. But when the colonel paused with the last one Lincoln said: "Why, colonel, you've overlooked one of your soldiers!"

The colonel did not understand; but, following the direction of the president's gaze, he saw, stowing himself away in an obscure corner where he hoped not to be noticed, his regimental drummer boy, who had stolen along behind his superiors.

And what did the great president do but walk over to the boy and take his hand, saying:

"My name is Abraham Lincoln. What is yours?"

He talked to the surprised and delighted lad until he put him entirely at his ease. Whether that drummer boy is still living or not is not known, but if he is he has not forgotten that incident.—Detroit Free Press.

The Watchman.

To play the game of watchman have a sheet or screen so placed that shadows may be cast upon it. Facing it have one of the players sitting in such a position that he can see only the screen, not anything that is going on behind him. This player is called "the watchman." Now behind the watchman and at such a distance that there is space for a person to walk between the watchman and the light place a candle.

The object of the game is for the watchman to guess from the shadows cast who is passing behind him.

The players, going one by one, may disguise themselves by limping, bowing the head or wearing a hat, but generally the watchman, if he is discerning, may detect the player by some peculiarity. For every one he guesses correctly a forfeit must be paid by the one discovered.

Modest Little Jane Port.

One of the richest children in England today is a little maid of nine summers called Jane Port, who by the eccentric will of an old man lately came into the whole of his fortune, which it is estimated will amount to $4,000,000 by the time she has attained her twenty-first year.

The little heiress lives with her mother and sister in quite a small way at Richmond and is as simple and lovable a child as you could wish to meet.

When asked whether she would like to live in a big house, with lots of servants and horses and carriages and have beautiful dresses and jewels when she grew up, Janey replied:

"No. I want to live in the country and grow lots of flowers and vegetables so that I can send them to hospitals," adding, "but I should like a bicycle."

Are You Up to the Mark, Boys?

A Smart Jump.

To remove an egg from one wine-glass to another without touching either the egg or the glasses place two wineglasses touching each other in a direct line from you, and in the one nearer to you must be placed an egg, with its smaller end downward. Then blow with the mouth suddenly, sharply and strongly against the side of the egg, but in a downward direction, when the egg will be lifted up and, falling over, will lodge in the other glass.—American Boy.

Two Story Elephant.

Willie, aged six, accompanied his father to the circus one day, and among the many strange things he saw was one elephant standing on the back of another.

"Oh, look pa," he exclaimed. "There is a two story elephant!"

Awful.

There is a little maiden who has an awful time; She has to hurry awfully To get to school at nine.

She has an awful teacher; Her tasks are awful hard; Her playmates all are awful rough When playing in the yard.

She has an awful kitty Who often shows her claws; A dog who jumps over her dress With awful muddy paws.

She has a baby sister With an awful little nose; With awful cunning, dimples And such awful little toes.

She has two little brothers, And they are awful boys; With their awful drums and trumpets They make an awful noise.

Do come, I pray thee, common sense, Come and this maid defend; Or else I fear her awful life Will have an awful end.

ENGLISH ETCHINGS.

Two millions of London's inhabitants never go to church.

The income tax returns show that citizens of Great Britain have invested abroad $5,630,540,500.

Three-sevenths of the total colonial territory of the world, Egypt and the Sudan included, belong to Great Britain.

Five brothers in Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, named Craig, are all possessors of Royal Humane society's medals for saving life.

Two or three hives of bees on a Kent (England) farm have declared war on the poultry, and several fowls have been stung to death.

The first "blacklist of habitual drunkards," published in London under the new licensing act, shows three times as many women as men.

There is a grapevine at Hampton Court, England, planted in 1667, which will produce this year about 1,000 bunches of grapes. Fifty years ago the same grapevine had an average yield of 2,400 bunches, but lately the clusters have been somewhat less abundant.

The Garment Makers' union of England has decided that in future the price of men's clothing shall be regulated by the weight of the purchaser. The average weight of a man is fixed at 150 pounds. Clothes for men up to that weight will cost no more than heretofore, but men above that weight are to pay $5 more for every 100 pounds in excess.

"I have been troubled with my stomach for the past four years," says D. L. Beach, of Clover Nook farm, Greenfield, Mass. "A few days ago I was induced to buy a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I have taken part of them and feel a great deal better." If you have any trouble with your stomach try a box of these tablets. You are certain to be pleased with the result. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

Positive Purity

Good Luck Baking Powder is so pure, its leavening force so great—that it takes only a heaping teaspoonful to a quart of sifted flour to give the very best results in biscuits, rolls, buns, wheat cakes, waffles, pies, etc.; somewhat less for cake; a trifle more for buckwheat—but, always less than any other baking powder. Because of its positive purity, Good Luck makes the lightest, whitest baking; lightest, because it generates most gas; whitest, because its ingredients are pure as the flour itself. The positive purity of makes uniform good results certain; makes it keep longer and better. This positive purity also makes it the largest seller in the world—we ship it in carload and trainload lots to every part of the country. In every can is a picture of one of the cars—a section of a train—read the conditions—and save it! If you cannot get Good Luck at your grocer's, write us, sending his name, and we will see that you are supplied.

GOOD LUCK
